Communication Corner

The 2020-2021 school year is underway and in this unprecedented year that may include in-person and/or remote learning. Serving our community's young children and supporting families has never been more important or more challenging. The Issaquah School District continues to value our partnerships with community preschools and we are committed to continuing the wonderful connections we have enjoyed these last few years. While the ways in which we are all doing business is different, we gather strength and perspective when we are on the journey together. I hope you will join us (via Zoom) for our first professional learning offering with Matt Glover on October 6. Your thoughts and ideas for future topics are welcomed and appreciated.
